It's Show Time: Vanderbilt at ISC West 2019

We are packing our bags and gearing up for another exciting and information-filled ISC West 2019 in fabulous Las Vegas! On April 10-12, the Vanderbilt team will take over booth #26087 at the Sands Expo to discuss security solutions and engage in the largest physical IT and IoT trade show in the United States.

With security needs constantly changing, ISC West provides an opportunity to gather with more than 30,000 security industry professionals to learn about developments in video surveillance, access control, biometrics, smart home, public security, drones and robotics, and more.

ISC West also offers an opportunity to showcase agile, adaptable and dependable solutions for diverse sectors — like those offered as part of Vanderbilt's product portfolio. Eager to be a part of providing solutions that are ready for any challenge, Vanderbilt looks forward to highlighting ACT 365, which offers complete cloud-based access control and video management that enables users to manage their security system from any device at any time. ACT365 has been a valuable tool for providing comprehensive security to multi-site locations, such as retail stores and satellite offices, as well as construction sites, gyms and sports clubs, property management companies, and other small- to medium-sized businesses.

More than 260 installers are already offering the solution to over 475 customers across the globe. By allowing users to remotely control and manage access to their facilities without a dedicated IT department, organizations gain the ability to implement a robust security solution while saving money on significant infrastructure investments. Users are able to easily scale ACT365 to accommodate additional doors or cameras, as well as view live and recorded video, manage users and conduct muster reporting in the event of an emergency.

Attendees at this year's ISC West will have the opportunity to experience ACT365 and learn why customers have called it "the most tech-friendly solution on the market." Vanderbilt will also display its signature access control solutions, such as lite blue®, bright blue® and the enterprise-class Security Management System (SMS).

To explore innovative, customizable safety and security solutions that will help you achieve your goals, schedule a meeting with a Vanderbilt team member and make sure to stop by booth #26087. We look forward to seeing you there!
