

News

A Year in Review: A Look Back at Vanderbilt in 2017

Overall, it's been quite a year for the industry and Vanderbilt. 2017 was successful in numerous facets; we saw a number of advancements in business development and product refinement across the industry, and Vanderbilt rolled out many new large projects and continued technology upgrades performed on the installed base. With the divestiture of Mercury Security Products and the introduction of the ACT365 cloud-based access control and video management solution highlighting the year, Vanderbilt experienced significant growth and productivity in 2017. Let's take a journey through the past 12 months and reflect on our most notable achievements:

January

Completed integration with Mercury Security to become an Authentic Mercury Partner

March

Italy's Credito Cooperativo invests in Vanderbilt's security solutions

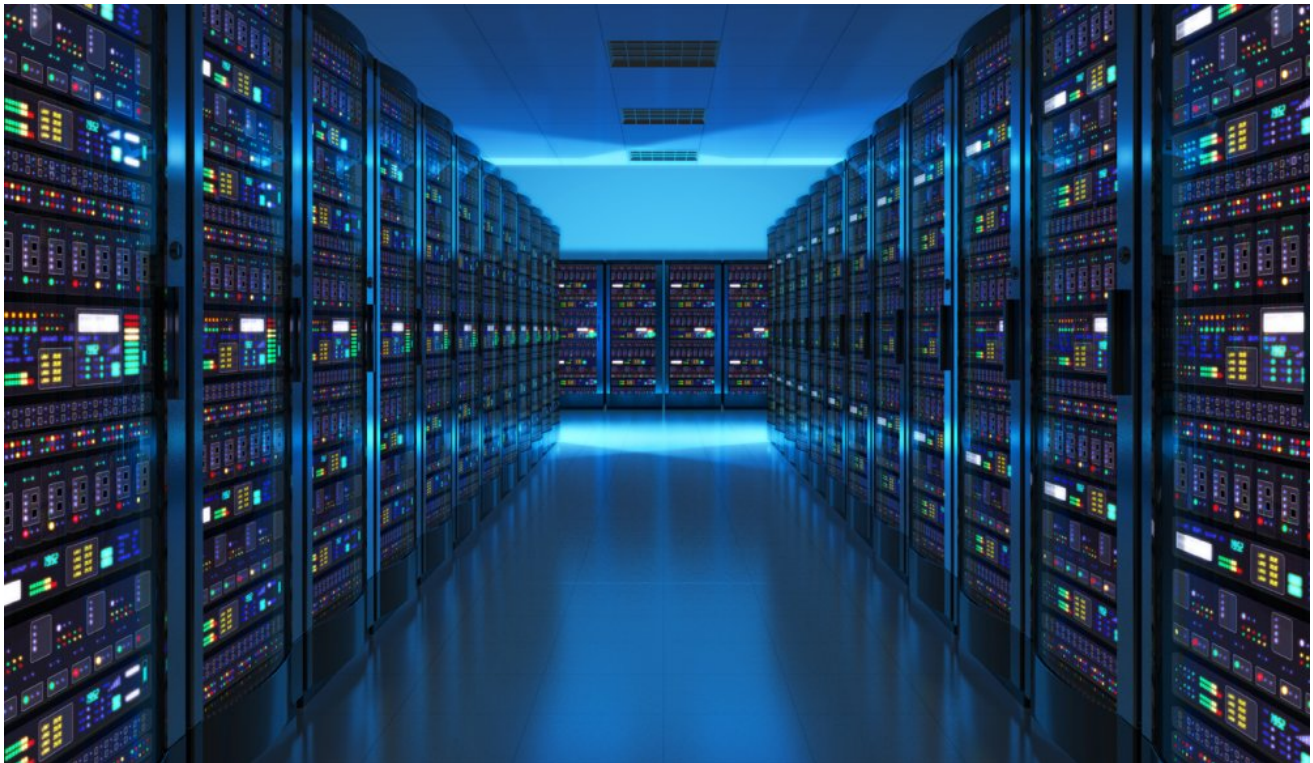

April

Elevated integration: KONE and ACTEnterprise

Successful and engaging ISC West

Integration: Eventys and ACTEnterprise

Partnership with Citel Spa

May

SPC Connect added to SPC product portfolio

Launch of Aspire Partner Program

June

Strength in cloud-based solutions showcased at IFSEC International

August

ACT365 wins at Benchmark Innovation Awards 2017

September

ACRE announces sale of Mercury Security Products

Security Management System (SMS) displayed and ACT365 previewed at ASIS 2017

October

ACT365 receives Recommended Status in Benchmark test

November

SPC Connect wins at Detektor International Awards

Launch of SPC Connect Pro

Remote monitoring features prove popular at Zurich event

We also would like to thank all of our incredible customers who deployed Vanderbilt's access control and security technology solutions this year, such as Thule Air Base, Twin City Hardware, the Lawn Tennis Association and the Odense council.

In addition, Vanderbilt CEO Joe Grillo and President Mitchell Kane were named as 2017 Physical Security Industry Influencers by Security.World. The Security.World community voted for 12 individuals that are making a difference in the industry, and we're proud to have two Vanderbilt representatives on the list!

Peering into 2018, we have plans to educate the marketplace on the technological and economic advances available with the Vanderbilt ACT365 solution. Cloud-based applications and mobile credentials continued to develop and drive discussions and debates this year, and will ultimately gain acceptance as their valuable advantages are recognized. We're looking forward to continuing to deliver innovation, agility, adaptability and dependability across all market segments next year. Happy Holidays and Happy New Year!

vanderbiltindustries.com